

About Superfoodcuisine

Superfoodcuisine is a young, dynamic and innovative company. The ever increasing demand for “real” foods in their most original and natural form along with the positive feedback and exotic taste sensations of his recipes have resulted in the foundation of Superfoodcuisine as a company.

Superfoodcuisine is not only about taste and flavour, we want to be a platform for a healthy, vital and balanced lifestyle. We are always looking forward to help our clients with personal information and services.

As a dynamic company we are always sourcing for the world’s best foods and are specialised in selling extraordinary organic living and wild functional foods. We care about the environment and have a lot of respect for nature and all living beings on this planet. All of our ingredients are 100% pure and natural and never contain synthetic materials or chemicals. We know exactly how our food is made. We only choose to work with partners that put a lot of care and use advanced methods of farming and handling of the foods at all times. This ensures that our products are loaded with nutrients and have the maximum flavour and taste. At Superfoodcuisine we offer some of the best and most nutritious foods on the planet!

Our partners ecological means of agriculture preserve valuable ecosystems and we make sure they get fair prices - these prices are higher than actual fair trade prices. This way we support our farmers and producers to sustainably grow their foods. Furthermore, it is our goal to bring our products on the market at interesting prices. You can help us to preserve local ecosystems and bio-diversity and we hope to introduce more great tasting foods that can meet your nutritional needs.

Real quality for all living beings and nature is our mission and through buying from us, you can become a conscious consumer making part of this mission.

© Superfoodcuisine